BOROUGH WILL HAVE BRIGHTER STREET LIGHTS

Gettysburg is to have new street lights on its principal streets which will be, according to borough council members, two and a half times brighter than the present lights.

Councilmen, at their regular May meeting Monday night in the engine house, voted to request the Metropolitan Edison company to install the new lights, which will be of 2,500 lumens, as compared with the 1,000 lumens of the present lights.

The new lights, on which delivery can be expected in about 90 days, are similar to those recently installed in Biglerville and other places.

New Traffic Lights
The 75 lights needed in Gettysburg will use more electric current, and will cost the borough more per year. Borough Engineer LeRoy H. Winebrenner said the extra bill for lighting current would be about $546 per year.

Announcement was made that the Swan Electric company of Hanover would begin installation of the new traffic signals today. The question of installing traffic lights in Center square was brought up by Councilman Wilbur J. Stallsmith, who said that traffic congestion in the square made it hazardous for pedestrians to cross the streets.

Councilman George D. March said that double-parking was "terrible," and that "if we need extra policemen we should get them." Burgess C. A. Heiges said there were only two policemen on duty on Saturday nights.

Criticize Congestion
"We are getting a lot of criticism from visitors to Gettysburg who say our traffic congestion is the worst they have ever seen," March said.

The matter was held in abeyance until the other traffic signals are installed. Councilman Harry E. Koch suggested that white lines be painted at the intersection of Baltimore and Steinwehr avenues for pedestrians. Borough Engineer Winebrenner reported that "there is a good chance" that the state highway department "may do something" about cutting back the point at this intersection.

LITTLESTOWN MINISTERIUM PLANS FOR LHS BACCALAUREATE

Plans were discussed for the annual high school baccalaureate service at the bi-monthly meeting of the Littlestown Ministerium Monday afternoon in the Sunday school room of Centenary Methodist church. The service will be held in the high school auditorium, Sunday evening, May 29, at 8 o'clock. The sermon will be delivered by the Rev. Grantas E. Hoopert, pastor of the Centenary Methodist church.

Parts in the service assigned to other members of the ministerium are: Invocation, the Rev. Kenneth D. James, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church; scripture reading, the Rev. Frank E. Reynolds, pastor of Redeemer's Reformed church; prayer, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church; the offering will be in charge of the Rev. Charles B. Rebert, secretary-treasurer of the Littlestown Ministerium; and benediction, the Rev. John C. Brumbach, pastor of Christ and St. Luke's Reformed churches.

Plans were also inaugurated for the annual daily vacation Bible school which will be conducted this year from June 6 to 17 inclusive for the children of the community between the ages of four and fourteen. The place and faculty will be announced at an early date. Worship services will be held in the Centenary Methodist church. The Rev. Mr. Hoopert will be the dean of the school and the Revs. Charles B. Rebert and John C. Brumbach will serve as the registrars. A free-will offering toward defraying the expense of the school will be received each day.

Plan Out-door Services
A request was received from the high school athletic council to name a representative to serve as a judge in selecting the winner in the naming the new athletic field contest. The Ministerium designated the (Please turn to Page 8)

Town Clean-Up Starts Thursday

The borough health committee today announced that the annual cleanup will take place, beginning Thursday, May 5. The work will start from the north end and work south.

Residents were notified, in an advertisement appearing in The Gettysburg Times today, to have all their rubbish placed in the alleys immediately, as the borough trucks will make only one trip in a section.

TO ELECT FOUR DIRECTORS AT "REC" MEETING

Gettysburg residents who donated to the Community Chest will have the duty of electing four directors representing the general public on the Gettysburg Recreation Board Wednesday evening.

The members whose terms expire Wednesday are Horace L. "Piney" Bender, Philip M. Jones, Mrs. Henrietta Blocher and William E. "Johnny" Knox.

Nine persons comprise the board of directors, with four elected by those who donate to the recreation association through their gift to the community chest, two named by the school board, one by borough council and two by the burgess as members-at-large.

The appointive directors are M. P. Hartzell and Mrs. Sydney Poppay, representing the school board; George D. March, representing council and Attorney Richard A. Brown and Glenn L. Bream.

A nominating-committee will present names of candidates for the four positions on the board at Wednesday's session.

All residents of the town were urged to turn out for the annual meeting, to be held in Gettysburg high school.

Besides the election there will be an exhibition of badminton by Mr. and Mrs. Clinton P. Stephens who won the All-England mixed doubles badminton championship and the 1948 N. S. championship. Musical entertainment will be provided by the Gettysburg Community Choir under direction of Richard B. Shade.

Judge Gross Speaker For Elks' Dinner

Judge Harvey A. Gross, judge of orphans' court, York, will be the speaker at the annual dinner in honor of out-going and in-coming officers of the Gettysburg lodge of Elks Thursday evening at 7 o'clock. The dinner will be for members only.

6 DIRECTORS ARE SELECTED BY ROTARIANS

The Gettysburg Rotary club elected six directors for the coming year Monday evening at its regular session in the YWCA and heard talks by three former members of the club on the interdependence between prosperity for the farmer and for the merchant.

Named as directors were Ralph E. Arnold, Dr. Kenneth L. Smoke, Paul Ecker, W. Clayton Jester, Col. William G. Weaver and Mares Sherman. The new board will meet within the next few weeks to organize for the coming year.

The speakers at the session included Frederic E. Griest, Flora Dale fruit grower; W. Clayton Jester, Biglerville star route dairyman, and I. Z. Musselman, Orttanna fruit grower and fruit processor.

75 Fet. Is Farm Business Here
Seventy-five per cent of Gettysburg's business is farm business, Jester claimed, pointing out that "when the farmers income drops 20 per cent then the income of the local merchant drops accordingly. It is to the interest of all of us to do what we can to keep the farmer operating at a profit."

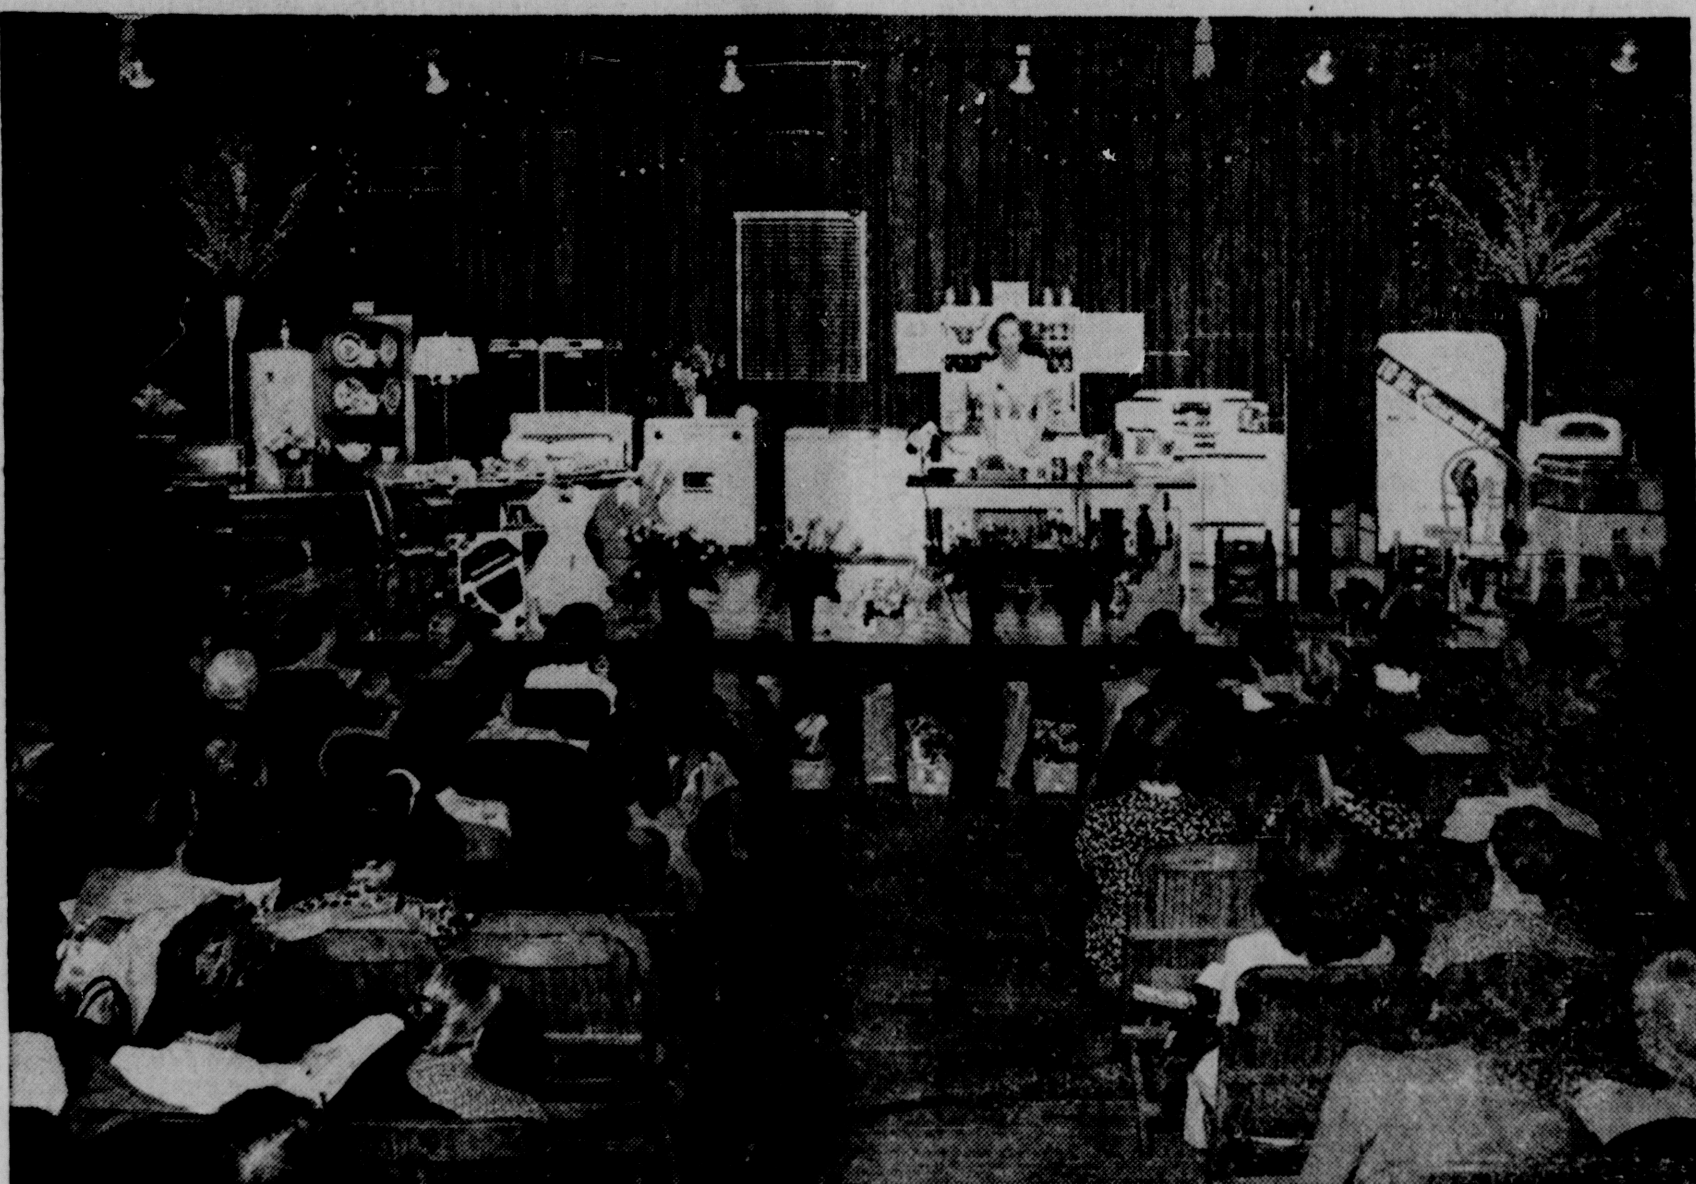

Jester pointed out that "while industry may bring in $3,000,000 or $4,000,000 a year to the county, the sale of agriculture products brings in $10,000,000 a year. We are definitely an agriculture county and thus our greatest efforts should be to promote agriculture."

Jester and Griest urged the (Please turn to Page 8)

More Than 1,100 Women Attend Opening Session Of Gettysburg Times Cooking School Monday

More than 1,100 women, with a sprinkling of men, filled the Hotel Gettysburg annex to overflowing for the opening session of the 1949 Gettysburg Times cooking school Monday evening. Every available chair was occupied and scores of women were standing when the first session started promptly at 7:30 o'clock. It was one of the largest and most enthusiastic first-night audiences in the history of The Times' cooking school demonstrations.

Mrs. Margaret Coverly-Smith, Philadelphia, home economics expert, entertained her large audience with her pleasing manner, her witty ad-libbing and her deft way of demonstrating and explaining modern ways of preparing various food dishes. She was assisted by Miss Martha Strausbaugh.

Second Session Tonight
Mrs. Coverly-Smith will give her second demonstration this evening. Doors to the annex will again open at 6:30 o'clock and the school will start promptly at 7:30 p. m. Children under 16 years of age will not be admitted.

Fifteen baskets of food were given away Monday evening. An additional 15 baskets will be awarded this evening and another 15 baskets will be given away Wednesday night.

Monday evening's winners were: Mrs. E. L. McClear, Iron Springs; Mrs. H. W. Bluebaugh, Biglerville R. 2; Jean Bretzman, Bendersville; Mrs. Harry T. Sease, 62 Breckenridge street; Doris Little, Gettysburg R. 5; Mrs. E. G. Hess, Fairfield R. 1; Mrs. Earl Guise, Gettysburg R. 4; Mrs. Robert Kump, Gettysburg R. 3; Mrs. Mary M. McClellan Papers To Be Society Topic

A number of items from the McClellan collection donated to the Adams County Historical society by Mrs. Raymond Topper will be shown and described this evening at 8 o'clock at the monthly meeting of the county historical organization at its museum rooms in the court house basement.

Miss Margaret McMillan and Mrs. Victor Duttera will describe the various articles and an opportunity will be provided those attending to view the documents.

Among the items is a pamphlet printed in Gettysburg of a speech made by the Rev. David McConaughy on "The Origin of Civil Liberties" to the Hunterstown Volunteers in 1823. Early newspapers of Adams county, Harrisburg, Philadelphia and other parts of Pennsylvania dating back to the 1830's are also in the collection.

DR. GREISS AGAIN HEADS BOARD AT SEMINARY HERE

The Rev. Dr. George A. Greiss, Allentown, was re-elected for his 14th term as president of the board of directors of Gettysburg Lutheran Theological seminary at the annual meeting of the board this morning at the seminary.

John H. Hooper, York attorney, was re-named as vice president; Dr. E. Martin Grove, Harrisburg, secretary and Gettysburg National bank, treasurer.

The executive committee was authorized to name a successor to Dr. Richard C. Wolf, assistant professor of Church history at the seminary, who has been selected to head the department of American Church History at Yale university.

Dr. Wentz Going To England
Dr. A. R. Wentz, president of the seminary, reported plans to attend meetings of the executive committee of the Lutheran World Federation, of which he is a member. The committee consists of 16 Lutheran leaders from throughout the world. The session this year will be held at Oxford in England.

The meeting of the board today precedes the annual "Seminary Week" activities which will begin Wednesday morning and extend through Friday. On Thursday afternoon the annual meeting of the Grand Chapter of the Friends of Gettysburg Seminary will be held at the seminary. Among Seminary Week speakers will be the Rt. Rev. G. Bromley Oxnam, presiding bishop of the Methodist church in America and one of the six presidents of the World Council of Churches.

Thornton Rodgers was re-elected Burgess of Emmitsburg for a third term at the annual municipal election there Monday. Out of 156 votes cast, all but one were for the incumbent candidate.

John Hollinger was named as a member of the board of commissioners for a three-year term to succeed Luther Kugler, who had not sought re-election.

Called To Kansas By Father's Death

Samuel A. Groening, Gettysburg R. 1, received word Sunday evening of the death of his father, Abraham Groening, 86, prominent wheat farmer and church leader of Hillsboro, Kansas. Death occurred Sunday and was caused by an injury suffered in a fall.

The deceased, who was a trustee of Tabor college at Hillsboro, was one of a group of Kansas farmers who pioneered in the use of frost-resisting wheat from Europe.

Mr. Groening, who is one of 12 surviving sons and daughters, left Monday for Hillsboro to attend the funeral services which will be held Wednesday.

PRESBYTERIAN SOCIETY MEETS

The Women's Missionary society of the Presbyterian church held its May meeting Monday afternoon in the social rooms of the church with the president, Mrs. E. Donald Scott, presiding. In opening the group joined in singing "For the Beauty of the Earth" after which Mrs. Rudolph Rosenstengel conducted a devotional period which had "Peace" as its central thought.

The theme for the program was "Mother's Day." Lewis Crow played two piano solos and a play entitled "Let's Give Mother a Rest" was presented by the following cast: Laura Witherow in the role of mother; Jean Wolfe as father; Charlene Patterson as "James"; (Please turn to Page 2)

Gettysburg's great white way will soon be whiter—we hope!

NEW ASPHALT APPROVED FOR STREET WORK

Borough street resurfacing this year will be done with a new "homogenized" asphalt preparation instead of the oil or tar which has been used for the past several years.

Council voted Monday night at its regular May meeting in the council chambers at the engine house, to award the contract for the road material to Bituminous Materials corporation, Harrisburg. Identical bids were received for either oil or "Colas," the asphalt emulsion. Council voted to give the latter preparation a trial.

The firm's bid was $0.1894 per gallon for either material. William S. Hammaker, Harrisburg, submitted the same price for oil. Hammaker has had the contract for the past several years. Prices submitted include delivery and application.

To Pay Damages
William M. Cullen, representing the Bituminous Materials corporation, guaranteed that "Colas" could be used with either wet or dry stone, and would not "pick up." He said that "if any of it is tracked into homes, we will pay for all the damage."

Contract for furnishing stone for road work was awarded to John S. Teeter and Son, Inc. for limestone. The Teeter bid was $1.75 a ton at the quarry, $1.90 at the borough shed or $1.95 applied. The Bethlehem Steel company offered stone at $1.35 a ton FOB quarry near Hanover, or $2.10 at the borough shed. Screenings were quoted at $1.25 at the quarry and $2 at the borough shed.

The borough will use its own trucks to haul the stone from the Teeter quarry. It has its own spreader.

Order More Meters
Council voted to place parking meters on the south side of West Middle street between Baltimore and South Washington streets. It also voted to authorize the Gettysburg fire department to spend $1,612 for new equipment, as requested at the April meeting.

A letter from the health department was received relative to water which stands on property owned by R. S. Noonan, west of South Washington street, and after considerable discussion, the matter was referred to the highway committee. P. M. Dunn, a property owner in the new Noonan development, appeared before council and said that water sometimes reaches a depth of three feet, and is a hazard to children playing in the neighborhood.

The "pond" was formed when a (Please turn to Page 3)

CHARITY FUND OF LIONS CLUB NETS $1,431.76

Gettysburg Lions Monday evening added a new member; heard a talk on the public assistance program in Adams county and were informed that the club's charity fund had netted $1,431.76 from the recent minstrel show.

The new member is John H. Long, manager of the Gettysburg Water company. Introduced as a "cub" Monday evening, he will be inducted formally at a later meeting.

The guest speaker was Mrs. Verna Myers, executive director of the public assistance board of Adams county, and she discussed the current public assistance program.

Costly Humanitarian Work
The report on the minstrel show presented at the Gettysburg high school auditorium April 21 and 22 was given by Kenneth P. Hull, general chairman of the committee in charge. The repeat performance given last Friday at the South Mountain fair grounds was for the benefit of the county cancer drive. President D. E. Hess expressed his official thanks to all of the 72 members of the club who helped with the show.

Mrs. Myers, describing public assistance as "humanitarian work that is costly," traced the history of public aid and told of the present public assistance setup headed by the secretary of public assistance who is a member of the governor's cabinet, appointive state and county boards of public assistance and county staffs that serve under the merit system.

The speaker listed as four cardinal policies set by law in the administration of relief funds: the right of any one to ask assistance; the requirement that all records be kept confidential; unrestricted money (Please turn to Page 7)

DEATHS

Levi Hershey

Levi Hershey, 76, native of Adams county, died suddenly early Monday morning in Akron, O., according to word received here by his niece, Mrs. Emmert Leatherman, Buford avenue.

Mr. Hershey was born near McKnightstown Station, a son of the late Joseph and Mariah (Graybill) Hershey. He moved to Akron about 30 years ago where he worked as a plumber.

Surviving are his widow, the former Minnie Bishop, also formerly of Adams county; one daughter, Mrs. Wilma France, and a grandson, George France. A number of nephews and nieces reside in Adams county.

Funeral services Wednesday afternoon in Akron.

Charles Ira Stonelifer

Charles Ira Stonelifer, 52, a Union Mills building contractor, died suddenly this morning at 9:30 o'clock while working, with some of his employees at the home of Mrs. Eda Schaffer, Moul avenue, Hanover.

He had complained of feeling ill earlier this morning and was stricken a few moments before he died. Coroner Lester J. Sell, of Hanover, is conducting the investigation into the death.

A son of the late Charles and Laura Bankert Stonelifer, he is survived by his widow, the former Hattie Tressler, three sons, Robert C. Westmister; Lewis D. Union Mills and J. Richard, at home, and five grandchildren.

Funeral services are incomplete and are being arranged through the Little funeral home at Littlestown.

Harry E. Feeser

Harry E. Feeser, formerly of near Thomasville, died at 5:30 p. m. Monday at his home, Lindbrook road, Middle River, Md., following a fall earlier in the day while at work at the Glenn L. Martin aircraft plant. Feeser, who would have been 51 on Friday, was said by Baltimore county police at Essex to have complained of chest pains following the fall. He was examined by a physician and retired to his home. Police said an autopsy was being performed to determine whether death was caused by the fall or by natural causes.

Feeser leaves his wife, Margaret W., and a daughter, Loretta Mae, at home; six sisters, Mrs. Charles Rife, Thomasville; Mrs. Airie Brown, Hanover R. 4; Mrs. Treva Kraber, York; Mrs. Maurice Warner, Hanover; Mrs. Robert Lockman, Spring Grove, R. 3, and Mrs. Morgan Bomberger, York Springs.

Also four brothers, Sterling and Robert Feeser, Thomasville; John Feeser, Hanover, and George Feeser, York.

Feeser was a veteran of World War I and was a member of the Third Division society, Hanover. He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Bert Feeser.

Military funeral services at 2 p. m. Friday at the Blaine K. Decker funeral home, 550 West King street, York, interment in Rest Haven cemetery, Hanover.

HELD FOR COURT IN 'NICKEL' FIGHT

John Robinson, 59, West High street, formerly of Philadelphia, was held for court this morning by Jus-tice of the Peace John H. Baschore after a hearing on a charge of ag-gravated assault and battery with intent to kill.

Unable to raise the $1,500 bail set for the charge, Robinson who is ac-cused of cutting Joseph Farr, of the same address as Robinson, about the throat, left elbow and left hand with a pen-knife, was returned to the Adams county jail until his trial.

Robinson told the justice that he slashed Farr in "self-defense," argu-ing that only his quickness prevent-ed Farr from drawing a knife and cutting first. He told the justice that Farr "was going for his knife and I got mine out and cut first." There was no other evidence introduced however to show that Farr tried to use a knife.

The argument which led to the cutting affray appeared to have started over a nickel, according to the testimony, with Robinson origi-nally charging Farr with taking a nickel in change that a waitress had brought back to a table at which the two men were seated. The dis-pute apparently continued for some time, finally ending in the cutting in the hallway at the home of the two men.

At 12:15 o'clock the May Queen will be crowned and her court se-lected. Among the activities in con-nection with the crowning will be a solo dance by Charlotte Taylor, fifth grade student, and singing by the high school glee club. From 5 to 7 p. m. a full course chicken dinner will be served at the fire hall in York Springs, with the high school group serving the din-ner. Money raised from the sale of tickets to the dinner will go toward the purchase of football equipment.

SCHOOL LEAGUE ELECTS; PLANS FOR NEXT YEAR

Officers were elected and plans for the 1949-50 year were made at a meeting of Adams County Scholastic Athletic association officers who met for their annual spring meeting Monday evening at Biglerville high school.

Charles Taylor, New Oxford, was elected president succeeding Ralph Wetzel, Boiling Springs; Jack Taylor, East Berlin, was named vice president and Arthur Gordon, Biglerville, was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

The 1949-50 basketball schedule was adopted as recommended by the schedule committee. It was decided to hold a round-robin playoff for the title, with the first and third place teams, and the second and fourth place teams meeting, the winners then meeting for the championship.

It was also decided that next year two rounds instead of one will be played by the baseball league. The following committee was named to draw up a schedule: "Bud" Ecker, Boiling Springs, chairman; Mr. Truitt, Newville, and Russ Kane, Biglerville.

Those attending the meeting included the following: Ralph Wetzel, Don Seibert and "Bud" Ecker, Boiling Springs; Eugene Haas and Arthur Gordon, Biglerville; Jack Taylor, East Berlin; Frank Basehor and Clayton Evans, Littlestown; William Porter, Mr. Wood and Mr. Truitt, Newville; Charles Taylor, Selon Dockey and Maurice Flegel, New Oxford, and Clyde Kennedy, York Springs.

INTERSTATE LEAGUE

(All games rained out.)

Interstate League

(By The Associated Press)
The Interstate league has just started but already the pre-season predictions are coming true.

One was that the Wilmington Blue Rocks would have a much better balanced team than the outfit that goes off to a poor 1948 start and then won the pennant on the final day.

Another was that Harrisburg, with only one player back from last year, would be a stronger outfit. Trenton, 1948 post-season playoff winner, was picked as another powerful team under the direction of a new manager, Hugh Poland.

A glance at today's standings after all of last night's games were rained out shows Wilmington setting the pace with five victories and one setback. Harrisburg and Trenton are only a game and one-half back with a record of 2-1, 3-1, respectively.

Eastern League

(By The Associated Press)
Scranton and Utica have turned on the power to rise from the Eastern league dungeon. Both clubs, which have shared the last four pennants evenly, snapped losing streaks yesterday with bursts of plate power indicating they are not long for second division.

The champion Red Sox posted their first win of the season, 3-2 in 10 innings at Hartford, after four straight setbacks.

In the only other action, Elmira outslug Wilkes-Barre 9-3, in the first game then blew a four-run lead to lose the afterpiece, 13-6. Binghamton led 1-0 when rain intervened after three innings at Albany.

Yesterday's Sports In Brief

(By The Associated Press)

Baseball

New York—Court issued a summons for Manager Leo Durocher of New York Giants charging him with simple assault against Fred Boysen, a Brooklyn fan, at the Polo grounds last Thursday.

Chicago—White Sox denied rumors of a $500 fine against catcher Joe Tipton and said everybody was happy on the second place club.

Horse Racing

New York—Ferd ($3.50) won the $10,000 added youthful stakes at Jamaica.
Louisville, Ky.—Armed ($2.50) won a six furlong sprint in 1:12 2/5 at Churchill Downs.

Havre De Grace, Md.—Love Sonnet ($11.00) won the feature race at Havre De Grace.

Boston—Mesner ($6.20) won the mile and a sixteenth feature at Suffolk Downs.

Albany, Calif.—Forbidden-C ($21.00) won the feature at Golden Gate fields.

Golf

Southern Pines, N. C.—Dick Chapman led a field of 85 in the first round of the Carolinas open golf tournament with a four-under par 68.

Miscellaneous

Montreal—Penit Lund of the New York Rangers won the Calder cup as the outstanding rookie of the National Hockey League.

Auburn, Ala.—Joel Eaves of Atlanta was named basketball coach at Auburn.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

New York, May 3 (AP)—Dick Burnett, the Texas oilman who has poured nearly a million bucks into the Dallas baseball club, is ready to challenge the "farm" systems on the subject of salary limits. . . . Seems there had been stories that Dallas was going over the limit. . . . Burnett's answer was: "These farm clubs have had players making $1,000 and $1,500 a month, but because they are optioned by a major league club only $350 of that salary applies against the Texas league salary limit. The rest is paid by the major league club. We get a $1,000 ball-player and every nickel of it counts against our salary limit because we own all our players. . . . If independently-owned Beaumont or Shreveport want to talk to me about salary limits, I'll talk sympathetically with them. If the chain-owned clubs want to complain, I think they ought to mind their own business." . . . At least that makes three "independents" who are acting independent—Burnett, Atlanta's Earl Mann and San Francisco's Paul Pagan.

YOU CAN'T QUINN

Ernie Lanigan relays this one on Bob Quinn, director of the Baseball Hall of Fame. . . . Seems that Bob, after a varied minor league career which included a stop at Pottsville, Pa., did a little ball playing for Otterbein college in Ohio. . . . The Pottsville stop is recalled because Quinn used to slide down the banisters to reach the basement dining room before the food ran out. . . . At Otterbein a rival coach became suspicious of the team which Athletic Director E. S. Bartard, later president of the American league, had assembled. . . . Before the game he asked Quinn to give the college yell. . . . Bob solemnly explained: "I've been so busy with my studies I haven't had time to learn it."

CLEANING THE CUFF

Jim Aiken has a "scrimmage-every-day-for-every-man" rule for his spring football drills at the U. of Oregon. It ought to make them tough. . . . Police Sergeant Henry Wittenberg, the Olympic wrestling champ who'll be honored at the City College (N.Y.) all-sports dinner, first tried for the chess and swimming teams at CCNY. . . . Wonder if any ordinary cops will take him on at checkers?

Newark, N. J.—Terry Young, 140, New York, outpointed Johnny Larusso, 139 1/2, New York, (8).

New York—George La Falgio, 133, New York, knocked out Joey Brocato, 134, New York, (2).

Cleveland—Robert Villemain, 158, France, outpointed Reuben Jones, 163 1/2, Norfolk, Va., (10).

LEAGUES STAGE 1ST SECTIONAL GAMES TODAY

(By The Associated Press)

The baseball spotlight was focused today on the New York Yankees and Cincinnati Reds as the first set of sectional clashes in the majors got under way.

Having demonstrated, rather amazingly, their ability to cope with their associates in the eastern half of the American League, the surprising Yankees now face their big test in the west.

Although they received rough treatment by Boston in their 11-2 defeat Sunday, Casey Stengel's men took 10 out of 13 from the east, and seven out of eight in the stadium.

That showing gave them a two-game bulge on the rest of the field. More important, however, are their two-and-a-half and three-and-a-half game leads over Cleveland and Boston, the teams generally figured to battle for the flag.

Whether the Yankees can do as well on the road as they did at home remains to be seen. If they can return home in first place after a dozen tilts on foreign fields, then you can stamp them as definite pennant threats.

The Stengelmans open today in St. Louis, where they face the Browns twice. Then they engage the White Sox three times in Chicago, the Tigers three times in Detroit and the Indians once in Cleveland. There also are three games in Philadelphia as a prelude to their return home.

Reds Big Surprise

The big surprise in the National League has been furnished by Bucky Walters' Reds. A last place choice by nearly every expert in the pre-season pool, the Reds have caused a lot of red faces by winning seven of their first 12 games. That put them in second place, only a game behind the pace-setting Boston Braves.

The Reds, with their pitching ace, Ewell Blackwell, still on the sidelines, have combined good pitching by veterans Ken Raffensberger and Johnny Vander Meer and timely hitting by Johnny Wyrostek and Red Stalcup, to win a majority of their games.

However, the next 10 days should show whether the Reds are better than anyone thinks they are, or are merely playing over their heads. The Ohioans inaugurate a three-game series in Brooklyn today, and follow up with two in Boston, four in Philadelphia and two in New York.

Poor Starts

In addition to the showing of the Yankees and Reds, the biggest surprises of the infant season have been the poor start of the Brooklyn Dodgers and Boston Red Sox, and the fast getaway of the Chicago White Sox.

Neither the Dodgers and Red Sox, pre-season favorites to meet in the World Series, has been able to do better than .500. The Dodgers won only six of their first 13 games, and the Red Sox split their first 12. On the other hand, the Chisox, doomed to the American League basement by a majority of the scribes, have won eight and lost five to take over the runner-up honors to the Yankees.

There were no games scheduled yesterday in either league.

DRIVE ON FOR SPENDING CUT

Washington, May 3 (AP)—Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) joined Senator Taft (R-Ohio) today in a drive for a five per cent cut in government operating expenses.

Vandenberg said that if the slash is applied across the board to appropriations bills as they come before the Senate, he will ask that funds for the European Recovery Program be cut in a like amount.

Previously, the Michigan senator fought to prevent any slash in the $543,000,000 Marshall Plan authorization, although he said that was only a ceiling under which the appropriations committees had a free hand to make reductions.

"I don't know any business that couldn't make a 5 per cent cut in its housekeeping costs if it had to," Vandenberg said. "With expenditures going the rate they are in the government, I'd like to see that economy applied."

How far the current economy drive may get is a question that will have to await action on all appropriation bills. The Senate is just beginning to take them up.

GOP Takes Over Last "Enemy" Stronghold

Harrisburg, May 3 (AP)—The Republicans take over the last major Democratic stronghold in the state government today as Weldon B. Heyburn is sworn in as auditor general.

Heyburn, a former state senator from Concordville, Delaware county, officially will begin his four-year term at 12 noon in a formal ceremony in the state Senate chamber. He succeeds G. Harold Wagner, White Haven, Luzerne county, who served since 1944.

The new 46-year-old fiscal officer first was elected to the Senate in 1936 and re-elected in 1940 and 1944. He was Republican floor leader in the 1943 and 1945 sessions and served as president pro tempore in 1947.

Yesterday, Republican Charles R. Barber, of Erie, was sworn into office as state treasurer, succeeding Ramsey S. Black, a Democrat.

Until 1896 the Kentucky Derby was run at one and one-half miles; since that date it has been a mile and a quarter.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

Prof. Roth Elected: The convention of the School directors of Adams county was called to order Tuesday morning at 10:45 o'clock, by County Supt. Thoman. There was a large attendance, about 194 out of the 204 directors being present.

Calvin Hamilton nominated Hon. R. Wm. Bream, and he was unanimously elected chairman of the convention.

Dr. J. G. Stover and George L. Deardorff were elected secretaries. By unanimous agreement the convention decided to make the salary of the County Superintendent $1,200.

The result of the balloting was as follows:

	1st.	2nd.	3rd.	4th.
Thoman, J. W.	83	89	89	78
Taylor, E. E.	41	47	28	78
Roth, H. M.	45	58	78	106
Sowers, J. L.	23	23
Cline	2

The election of Prof. Roth, of Biglerville, who had been nominated by Calvin Hamilton, was received with cheers by the convention, which they adjourned.

Wedding Bells: At high noon on Saturday, Mr. Guyon Henry Buehler, editor and proprietor of the Star and Sentinel, was married to Miss Caroline Edwards, the accomplished daughter of the late Rev. Henry Edwards, D. D., who was a well known Episcopal clergyman, living for many years in Hagerstown, Md. The wedding took place in the Church of the Redeemer, Brooklyn, N. Y., and the ceremony was performed by Rev. George Calvert Carter, rector. Owing to the recent death of the bride's father, the wedding was a quiet one. They left immediately for Philadelphia and will spend some time at the seashore.

Mr. and Mrs. Buehler will be "At Home" after May 17th.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Francis Xavier church Tuesday morning at 6:30 o'clock, Rev. T. J. Crotty, the pastor, officiated. The contracting parties were Miss Catharine Slonaker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Slonaker, of this place, and Mr. John Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hall, of Mendenhall township. Mr. H. J. Brady acted as best man and Miss Daise Davis as bridesmaid. Reception Tuesday evening at the home of the bride on Breckenridge street.

Recruiting Station Opened. A sub-recruiting station was opened in the Columbian building, on Baltimore street, on Tuesday by Sergeant Horace U. Little. The work here is under the supervision of Capt. S. W. Miller, recruiting officer at Harrisburg.

Dr. Henry Stewart was appointed examining surgeon.

The first recruit was Walter Tipton, who re-enlisted in his old troop, George A. Martin and Charles R. Welty enlisted on Monday.

Oscar B. Kreider, will have charge of these recruits: Harry King, Slayton A. King and Samuel M. Stanton.

Soldiers enlisting will receive $16.50 a month in time of war and $13 a month in time of peace.

Local Miscellany: The government will shortly acquire the land of Henry Spangler, which has recently been in litigation in the land condemnation proceedings, he having acquired the award of the jury. The amount of land taken from him is 25 3/10 acres, and the consideration $3,420.

Since the first week in March there have been twenty-seven persons in the lock-up.

Paul Spangler, on Saturday, purchased at administrator's sale the house of the late Mrs. Joseph Wible, for $1,235, and a small lot at the rear of that property for $15.50.

A warrant was issued on Saturday, by Squire Meals, for the arrest of five young men charged with drunkenness and disorderly conduct, on the night before, at a dance on Breckenridge street. They were arrested, and at a hearing Monday were each fined $4 and costs.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

CONTENTMENT

Contentment is no modern idea. It is something for which the human race has been searching ever since man was created. The Latin poet and philosopher Horace (65-8 B.C.) had this to say: "Whatever hour God has given for your weal, take it with grateful hand nor put off joys from years to year; so that whatever place you have been you may say that you have lived happily."

We gain the greatest measure of contentment by taking things as they come, handling and mastering them as best we can, and not worrying about the results. The results will take care of themselves. Great material success (or possessions) gives no assurance of contentment. People with the least of material possessions are often far happier than those with many.

Contentment is a thing of the mind and heart. Paul, in writing to the Philippians, said: "I have learned, in whatsoever state I am, therewith to be content." But this doesn't mean that we should be satisfied with our lot, stand still, and remain static. Contentment is something that one earns. We cannot gain contentment by having someone else earn it for us.

Day by day, year by year, we may keep getting a clearer idea of the meaning of contentment. We learn how futile are many of the attempts to gain something that gives neither joy nor satisfaction. Contentment is something within us that we must discover. It's a "state," as the Apostle Paul suggested.

We cannot become contented ourselves, however, for so long as there is no contentment about us, or in the world at large, we are "One World" when it comes to this. What contentment we have should be shared or taught to others. Especially by example.

You may have heard the old story about the King who sent his agents out to search for a contented man, and when they found him, to bring his shirt back that he might wear it. They found that man, singing by the roadside, but when they asked him for his shirt he replied that he had none!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Digging for Gold."

VIRUS X

Long years ago, as I recall, When I was but a youngster small, When'er a cold took hold of me The mother gave me flaxseed tea. Her remedies for colds were few— The simple cures all women knew— But this she trusted as the best: A mustard plaster on the chest.

To her a cold was "Just a cold." But now 'tis Virus X, I'm told. The corpses, both red and white, Must counted be by day and night. And there are special pills to take If legs and arms and muscles ache. That done, the nurse must find a spot To give a penicillin shot.

Though not recorded on the charts, That's just another game of darts. The patient as the target lies, A bull's eye gets the nurse a prize! To cure a cold, the doctors say, This is the very latest way. Achieving in a day or two What mustard plasters used to do.

STATE'S RELIEF PROGRAM TO BE INVESTIGATED

Harrisburg, May 3 (AP)—Pennsylvania's $160,000,000 relief program and a score of other issues will be studied by the General Assembly's joint state government commission in the next two years. Most of the inquiries were authorized in the closing days of the 1949 session of the legislature with instructions to make reports and recommendations to the 1951 General Assembly.

But before any of the studies can be started the commission itself must be re-organized.

Twelve Senators will be named to the commission by Sen. M. Harvey Taylor, president pro-tempore of the Senate, and 12 House members by Speaker Herbert P. Sarg with the appointments due in the next week or so.

To Get New Chairman

Following these appointments, the commission will meet and select new officers with Sen. John M. Walker, Republican Senate leader, and Rep. Baker Royer (R-Lancaster), present vice-chairman, both mentioned for the commission chairmanship, the post at present is held by Weldon B. Heyburn, former Delaware county Senator, who takes his oath today as state Auditor General.

The relief inquiry, directed in a resolution presented by Sens. Fred P. Hare, Jr., (R-Somerset) and T. Newell Wood (R-Luzerne), was aimed particularly at determining the advisability of assigning part of the cost of public assistance and most of the authority to local officials.

The state appropriation for relief in the next two years was set at $160,000,000 by the legislature, an increase of $25,000,000 above that allocated by the 1947 Legislature. In addition, the lawmakers earmarked all surplus funds up to $25,000,000 for public assistance if the regular appropriation is insufficient.

Other Investigations

In addition to relief, inquiries were directed in these other subjects: Cost of building and maintaining state highways; state office buildings outside of Harrisburg; a uniform accounting system for commonwealth agencies; taxation and exemptions of fuels used for other than highway uses; commonwealth forests and reforestation; efficient public school attendance areas; and child placement and adoption.

A study of smoke control for municipalities, the problem of partial unemployment compensation and retirement systems for state and local public workers also were authorized.

The legislature also continued studies of fishways and similar devices for carrying fish around dams and the commonwealth's administration agencies.

Revision of codes affecting mental health, rent control, orphans' court procedures and insurance also were directed as well as modernization of the state's 1929 administrative code.

Coffey's Mother Is Slated For Vacancy

Ebensburg, Pa., May 3 (AP)—Mrs. Robert L. Coffey, Sr., 53, of Johnstown, is Democratic leader's choice to succeed her son as Congressman from the 26th Pennsylvania district.

The son, Rep. Robert L. Coffey, Jr., was killed April 20 in a jet plane crash at Albuquerque, N. M. Mrs. Coffey was slated for the post yesterday at a meeting of party leaders from Armstrong, Cambria and Somerset counties. Their choice will come before the state Democratic executive committee Friday at Harrisburg.

At Johnstown, Mrs. Coffey said she had not been officially notified of the selection. "I am very appreciative of the honor conferred on me," she said. "However, I believe that in the event Bob's widow, Mrs. Irene Coffey, desires the nomination, she should have it. She is very capable and I am certain she could handle the position in a fine manner."

Littlestown

Littlestown—Den mothers Mrs. Kenneth D. James, Mrs. Leonard L. Potter and Mrs. George Strevig met Monday evening with L. Robert Crouse, cubmaster of Littlestown Cub Pack No. 84 in the Photo Shop to plan for the next pack meeting which will be held Tuesday, May 10, at 7:30 p. m., in the fire hall. The theme of the meeting will be "Farming." A projector and motion picture on farming will be secured for the meeting. Prior to this meeting the den will visit a nearby farm. At the meeting, the cub will report on what they saw and explain the animals and the farm machinery. The parents are urged to attend this meeting. Cubmaster Crouse has announced that the Pack committee with the assistance of Rodney L. Law, art teacher in the local high school are making Ducks for the Noah's Ark Circus to be held by the scouts at the York Fair grounds on June 2.

Softball season was inaugurated Monday evening in Littlestown, when Harry's defeated Crouse's team by a score of 10 to 9. Tonight the Mystic Chain will play the Eagles and Thursday night, the Redeemer's team will play the Foundry. All games start at 6:30 p. m. There will only be six teams in the league this year—Harry's, Crouse's, Mystic Chain, Eagles, Redeemer's and the Foundry team. After this week, the games will be played each Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights until August 31.

There will be another special meeting of the Ever Willing Sunday school class of St. John's Lutheran church, Mrs. Harry W. Badders, teacher, on Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Charles Tressler, West King street. All members are urged to attend as arrangements for the Mothers' Day program will be completed at this time.

Seventy-seven members of the freshman class of Littlestown high school accompanied by Frank Basehoar and Garnet Schellhase of the faculty as chaperones, left Littlestown at 7:30 a. m., Friday in two chartered buses for Harrisburg. While in the capital city, they toured the capitol, the state museum and the education building. From there, they went to Hershey where they visited the Hershey chocolate plant, the Hershey industrial school and the flower gardens. They returned to Littlestown at 5:30 p. m.

James Cairns and Paul Ecker, Gettysburg; Evan Appier, North Queen street; Jerry Jeffries, South Queen street; Melvin Spangler and Edward F. Hawk, East King street, and Earl Wenschhoff, West King street, Littlestown, attended the Builders' show in Philadelphia on Saturday morning. In the afternoon they saw the baseball game between the Athletics and Washington in Shibe Park.

I. H. Crouse and Sons, local contractors, are again offering prizes for shop projects, which will be awarded to the boys who are winners at the open house which will be held in the local high school building on Friday from 7 to 10 p. m. There will be a first and second prize for each grade and the winning projects will be on display at the open house. The bases for these awards is workmanship, 50 points; finish, 30 points; selection of model, 10 points; and drawing or blueprint, 10 points. Judges have been appointed to select the winners. The first prizes consist of: Seventh grade, one Plumb hammer; eighth, one Plumb hatchet; freshman, one eight-point saw; sophomore, one ten-point Atkins saw; junior, one set of chisels, 1/2-inch to 1 1/2 inches; senior, one set of bits, Nos. 4 to 16 inclusive. The second prizes will be: Seventh grade, one tri-square; eighth grade, one hack-saw; freshman, one Plumb hammer; sophomore, one 24-inch Stanley level; junior, one Recto 10-inch brace, and senior, one No. 4C Stanley plane.

Journalism department, will be in charge of Dale H. Gramley, editor of the Bethlehem Globe-Times.

Among the topics to be discussed at the sessions are the hiding or restricting of news, the drying-up of news sources, and the steps taken by local newspapers to meet the challenge of public officials seeking to suppress news.

Pennsylvania's plan for selecting judges, the newspaper and labor news, and development of school news as a daily feature, are other topics which will come under scrutiny during the meeting.

RAYBURN BACKS 5 AMENDMENTS

Washington, May 3 (AP)—Speaker Rayburn announced Monday his support of five amendments to the administration labor bill and said he believes they will assure passage of the measure.

Rayburn told a news conference the amendments are being drafted by a group of House members including southern Democrats. They will be offered tomorrow when the House resumes debate on labor legislation.

Briefly, he said, here's what they would do:

1. Give the President authority to intervene, either by injunction or plant seizure, in a threatened strike involving the public welfare.
2. Make it "perfectly clear" that there is to be freedom of speech on both sides in a labor controversy.

3. Require non-Communist affidavits to be made by leaders of both labor and management.

4. Make certain that financial reports of labor organizations are available to members of the unions and perhaps to the public generally.

5. Require that both sides in a controversy must bargain "in good faith."

Berlin, May 3 (AP)—Gen. Lucius D. Clay said Monday that even if Russia adopts a reasonable attitude temporarily Communism's eventual aim is still world domination.

The American military governor said he did not know what policy the Russians would adopt at any future meeting of foreign ministers called to discuss Germany.

Washington, May 3 (AP)—If President Truman is willing to wait eight months, he may find a way to pry his nomination of Mon. C. Wallgren out of the Armed Services committee.

A Senator who asked not to be quoted by name said Monday the expected resignation next December of Senator Baldwin (R-Conn.) may cause reorganization of the committee after January 1 with eight Democrats and five Republicans as members.

ANNUAL LIST OF PULITZER PRIZE WINNERS GIVEN

New York, May 3 (AP)—Pulitzer prizes have been awarded to "Death of a Salesman," the smash Broadway hit, and to "Guard of Honor," a novel about a wartime air force general.

The writers were named yesterday by the trustees of Columbia University—45-year-old James Gould Cozzens as the outstanding novelist of 1948 and Arthur Miller, 33, as the outstanding dramatist.

Robert E. Sherwood received an award for his intimate biography, "Roosevelt and Hopkins."

The Pulitzer committee decided that the Nebraska State Journal of Lincoln, Neb., rendered the "most disinterested and meritorious service" among the nation's newspapers. The Journal was honored for promoting a Presidential preference primary.

A New York Sun series by Malcolm Johnson on waterfront crime was adjudged the year's outstanding example of local reporting by a newspaperman.

These awards, and others for outstanding work in the fields of journalism, letters and music, were made by the Columbia trustees on recommendation of the advisory board of the graduate school of journalism.

The awards—given for the 32nd year—were established in 1917 through a gift of $2,500,000 made to Columbia University by the late Joseph Pulitzer, former publisher of the New York World and the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Sherwood was the only previous winner on this year's list. He received prizes in the field of drama in 1936, 1939 and 1941.

Cartoonist, 80, Wins

The music award went to Virgil Thomson, 52, music critic of the New York Herald Tribune, for accompaniment to "Louisiana Story," documentary film on the drilling of an oil well in the Louisiana bayous.

Late Pease, 80-year-old cartoonist and the oldest man ever to win a Pulitzer prize in that field, was honored for a cartoon in the Newark (N.J.) Evening News. The cartoon showed a broken window pane labeled "coal strike" with a lower line saying "U. S. economy." A judge was shown pointing a finger at United Mine Workers boss John L. Lewis, who was asking innocently, "Who, me?"

Two newspapermen won prizes for the year's best editorials, in the first joint award of its kind since 1936. The winners were John H. Crider, 43, editor-in-chief of the Boston Herald, and Herbert Elliston, 53, English-born member of the Washington (D.C.) Post staff.

C. P. Trussell, of the New York Times, received a prize for excellence in covering the national scene from Washington.

Price Day, of the Baltimore Sun, was honored for a series of articles on India's first year of independence, which was adjudged the best reporting on international affairs.

PROMISE ACTION ON TOLL BRIDGES

Harrisburg, May 3 (AP)—Quick action was promised today on Gov. James H. Duff's plans to free Pennsylvania's last 10 privately owned toll bridges. Ray F. Smock, state highways secretary, said appraisals on the actual value of the spans are about started. And by the end of the month, he added, negotiations will start with owners.

The legislature provided for a $10,000,000 program to acquire the bridges located in Harrisburg, Clark's Ferry, Sunbury, Bethlehem, Allentown, Ellwood City-Koppel, Point Marion and Charleroi-Monessen.

Under the plan, the Commonwealth will float a $10,000,000 bond issue authorized—but never used—the political crisis that led up to the Civil War, won a prize for Roy Franklin Nichols, of the University of Pennsylvania.

Peter Viereck, of Mount Holyoke college, South Hadley, Mass., was honored for "Error and Decorum," a collection of his poems published in magazines.

in 1933 by Pennsylvania's voters.

The bonds would be paid off by: (1) continuing tolls for a period from 10 to 15 years; (2) an outright grant from the motor license fund.

The second alternative would mean continuance of tolls for at least three more years until the 1951 legislature and the voters approve a constitutional amendment to allocate money from motor license and gasoline tax receipts. Such an allocation had been ruled unconstitutional in 1945 under a previous plan to buy the bridges.

"Governor Duff and the legislature have indicated that these bridges must be taken over by the Commonwealth," Smock said. "The motorists, too, are anxious to see the bridges freed. We propose to give them action—and in a hurry."

EEK DATE ON LOCKADE'S END FROM RUSSIANS

By ROBERT HEWETT

New York, May 3 (AP)—The western powers moved warily today to the Russians to an early, definite date to lift the Berlin blockade and start new talks on the entire German problem.

An informed source said the west expects to see the blockade end in a matter of days and four-power talks on Germany's future start by the end of May. The New York Times said the dates proposed are the middle of next week for the end of the blockade, and about May 25 for the start of east-west talks in Paris.

These reports followed a meeting in London yesterday which lasted for more than an hour. The only official announcement after this session was a terse communication saying the blockade discussions still were progressing "satisfactorily."

Next Step Is Malik
The participants were Britain's Alexander Cadogan, French Foreign Minister Jean Chauvin, and Dr. Philip C. Jessup, United States ambassador-at-large.

The next step would be presentation of the western-power proposal to Jakob A. Malik, Russia's key man in the blockade talks here.

A U. S. spokesman cautioned against undue hope for speed, hinting that Malik and the French and British envoys were awaiting further instructions from their home governments.

Ready to Cooperate

The Soviet union has offered to all off the blockade if the western powers will drop their counter-blockade and agree to a mutually acceptable date for a meeting of the Big Four foreign ministers on the whole German problem. The offer resulted in a series of secret meetings between Jessup, talking for the west, and Malik.

A Berlin dispatch yesterday quoted a top American spokesman here as predicting the Russians also would be willing to lift their economic iron curtain on Eastern Europe if the west is willing to trade with those areas. The spokesman said Soviet satellites are "starved for manufactured goods which Russia cannot supply."

He predicted, also, that the U. S. S. R. would agree to practically any western proposal to get a central German government in the hope of getting a chance to influence it or, at the worst, use it as a "buffer" state.

TAYLOR MAPS '50 PLATFORM

Harrisburg, May 3 (AP)—Sen. M. Harvey Taylor, Republican state chairman, today gave Pennsylvania's voters their first look at 1950 legislative campaign issues.

The GOP chief said in a statement "the Republican party will stand squarely upon the record of our great leader, Gov. James H. Duff, and the General Assembly" after asserting the 1949 session "will go down in Pennsylvania history as outstanding in every field."

Duff already is quietly being lauded by some Republican leaders as the party's candidate for U. S. senator against the Democratic incumbent, Sen. Francis J. Myers, next year.

Taylor said the legislative program was enacted in a spirit of forward-looking and inspired cooperation and added: "It is not within the memory of any of us when the General Assembly so carefully and meticulously followed the dictates of the people and fulfilled their requirements with such altogether superb legislation."

Taylor listed particularly legislation affecting education, the veterans' bonus, labor, toll bridges, conservation, mental health and agriculture.

"PHYSICAL FITNESS" WEEK

Harrisburg, May 3 (AP)—Gov. James H. Duff has endorsed "Physical Fitness Week" and asked parents, schools and community groups to "focus attention upon improvement of the physical vitality of all our people" from May 8-14.

Gifts for Mother

Whether MOTHER needs a jewel box, a pair of scatter pins, a set of apple dishes, a bit of vine for her coffee table, a new bridge table cover, a pair of prints for the hall, a tiny flashlight key-chain for her purse, or (to be very practical) a needle threader . . . you will find them all and many more delightful gifts in our little shop where you are always welcome.

Chapter 11

After a few days they had settled down into the routine that would hold them through the winter months.

Two days before the first Thanksgiving, Jason came back from a trip to the grocery store two blocks away, wild with excitement.

"I've got a job, Fliss, at the grocery! Working Friday afternoons and Saturdays, and I'm going to work tomorrow, because the store will be closed, of course, on Thursday."

Felicity caught her breath on something near a sob. He was only fifteen, but tall, rangy, heartbreakingly small-boyish in some ways, even more heartbreakingly a man in others.

"Oh, darling, it's such hard work—and long hours," she protested.

"The hours are not half as long as the ones you have been putting in for years taking care of the kids and me," he reminded her almost grimly.

Thanksgiving—the first one—was a day of wild excitement. It was a glorious day, warm as mid-summer, and Felicity had packed a picnic basket as only Felicity could do it. They all set off very early in Garrett's car, because it was larger, for a day at the beach.

With the lunch basket placed safely out of reach of the tide and covered securely from the fiddler crabs, they all played in the water. Garrett and Jason could swim; the others couldn't. And because none of them knew anything about the currents at this spot, and had heard some pretty terrifying tales of "rip tides" and shelving beaches where, beneath the deceptively peaceful waters, one stepped off into holes above one's head, the others were content just to paddle at the edge of the beach.

When, sunburned and glowing with happiness and hunger, they came back to the beach, they saw something that looked like a small shadow scurry out of sight behind a dune.

"It looked to me like a dog," said Jason, and went to investigate.

They were yelling for him to come to lunch when he finally came back with surely the most miserable looking small specimen of a dog that one could conceive.

He covered in Jason's arms, shrank from the blow that he so obviously expected, and whimpered as though with pain when the scent of food struck his small nostrils, far too long unused to such scents.

"The poor mite!" said Felicity, as she poured milk into a paper cup and held it for the cringing little dog. "What do you suppose he's doing way out here? It's miles to the nearest house—" "Someone who didn't want him and who was too kind-hearted to kill a dog" brought him out here and abandoned him," said Garrett dryly.

The puppy had finished the milk and was watching her hopefully, his long pencil-like tail almost daring to wag a little. The children were entranced with him. They fed him bits of their lunch until his small stomach was pleasantly full. They played with him and, a little dazed at all this kindness and attention in a world where he had up to now found only misery and hunger, he was beside himself with delight. When the day was over and they were ready to leave, he stood watching them with all his eager, hopeful puppy-soul in his eyes. Felicity stooped, caught him up in her arms, and said shakily, "Stop it, Pup—you're breaking my heart. Of course you can go home with us—if you want it that much."

Garrett grinned at her as he sat beside her at the wheel and bent to switch on the ignition. "Wonder what Ma Green will say?" he suggested, amused.

But when they drove into the camp and Ma Green saw the dog, she nodded, smiled and said, "There now—your place looks complete. I always think a bunch of kids ain't complete unless there's a pup around somewhere."

"Then—you don't mind if we keep him?" Felicity said eagerly.

Ma Green looked surprised. "Mind? Good land, child, why should I mind? It's like I say—kids need something small and alive to take care of. It sort of teaches them things to have a little thing dependent on them."

"Ma Green, you're a darling!"

Ma Green's faded blue eyes twinkled a little and she nodded. "Oh, I daresay—I daresay!" she drawled, and went back to the unadorned, weather-stained little house that was her home.

Garrett had got past the first fifteen pages of his book and it was now going smoothly and his enthusiasm for it was mounting. He still talked it over with Felicity every night, but he still argued violently with her suggestions and refused to heed them, so she finally stopped offering them. She told herself, lying awake long after she had said good-night to him, that the trouble was with her; she just didn't understand the kind of people Garrett was writing about and so she couldn't possibly judge. If the book sounded very dull and unconvincing to her, that was only her own ignorance and lack of understanding.

She borrowed Garrett's typewriter occasionally and worked like mad typing her play. Not, she assured herself over and over again, that she had the faintest hope of ever selling the play or of seeing it produced; she knew it wasn't any good; but writing it, working on it, planning it as she went about her busy days gave a sort of emphasis to things. It helped the everyday task if, while she was performing them, she could be polishing, in her mind, some bit of dialogue, perfecting some trick of stage "business." But she would have been mortified to tears if anyone had known what (To be continued)

Emmitsburg

Emmitsburg—A card party sponsored by the alumnae of St. Joseph's college will be held on Tuesday, May 10, at 8 o'clock in St. Joseph's high school auditorium, DePaul street. The public is invited.

John and Gene Calahan, Baltimore, spent the week-end with their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Eckenrode.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hemler and family, McSherrystown, visited Sunday with Mrs. Ray Topper.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Dickerson, Baltimore, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Parks Jennings.

George Combs, Washington, visited in town over the week-end. Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Peters, Baltimore, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Guy A. Baker.

Benjamin Hobbs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Hobbs, Emmitsburg, and Michael Hobbs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hobbs, Fairfield, participated in the minstrel show on Friday evening at South Mountain, sponsored by the Gettysburg Lions club, the proceeds of which were for the Cancer Fund. The two Hobbs boys are cousins. They played the violin and guitar respectively and also sang.

The party held at the Firemen's hall April 30, sponsored by the Sodality of St. Joseph's church netted $95.76. The draw prize was won by Kenneth Shoemaker, and $5 was awarded to David Herring.

A rummage sale, sponsored by the Emmitsburg Public Library, will be held on Saturday, May 14, at the firemen's hall, beginning at 10:30 a. m.

The Marian Congress will open at St. Joseph's college on Friday, May 6, and will extend to May 8. Priests from Mount St. Mary's college will assist as officers of the Solemn Pontifical Mass which the Most Rev. Patrick A. O'Boyle, archbishop of Washington, will celebrate Sunday morning. A choir of male voices from Mount St. Mary's will sing Marian music for a radio broadcast over station WHP, "Church of the Air," Harrisburg, 10:30 to 11, Sunday morning May 8. The program will be directed by Dr. A. M. Wasilofsky, teacher at St. Joseph's college, Seton high school, of Baltimore, will provide orchestral music for the Congress. Due to the prospects for a vast throng at the Congress, some of the chapel events may take place out-of-doors.

Mr. and Mrs. George Howard Gillelan, Baltimore, announce the birth of a daughter on April 27 at Union Memorial hospital. Mrs. Gillelan is the former Ann Stinson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. O. H. Stinson.

The week of May 1 to May 7, inclusive, has been set aside to stress the importance of correct posture in the schools, factories and homes of the nation, and Mayor Thornton W. Rodgers urges the citizens of

Auditors Report Shortage Of $1,988

Middleburg, Pa., May 3 (AP)—County auditors Charles E. Wagner and Mrs. Phoebe Wetzel today reported a shortage of $1,988 in the accounts of Ray G. F. Leach, former Snyder county treasurer.

Leach is free on $5,000 bail on a charge of embezzlement following reported shortages in county and state funds in his office. The shortage was discovered when Leach disappeared January 3. He was arrested several weeks later in Texas at the home of a sister. Much of the shortage was discovered in payments made by delinquent taxpayers, the auditors said. The embezzlement charge against Leach will be heard by Judge A. Francis Gilbert in Snyder county court on June 6.

CLASS MARKS 1,100 Women ANNIVERSARY WITH DINNER

Thirty couples attended the third anniversary banquet of the Fifty-Fifty Sunday school class held in the dining room of St. James Lutheran church Monday evening.

A baked ham dinner was prepared and served by the Young Men's Bible class of the church. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Weikert served as co-chairmen of the banquet committee with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fox and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Crone assisting.

Dr. Ralph R. Gresh, pastor of the church and teacher of the class, gave the invocation. Group singing was led by Eugene Hartman. Mrs. George Hikes presided as toastmaster.

Dr. Wolf Speaks
The speaker for the evening was the Rev. Dr. Richard Wolf, of the seminary faculty. His three-part talk dealt with what he termed "three wanted signs talked of and heard about in everyday life—Wanted: A New World; Wanted: The Right Men; and Wanted: God." He concluded with the thought that once God was found there would be the right men to build a new world.

Dr. Gresh, on behalf of the class, presented the retiring president, George Hikes, a gift. Carol Smith, newly-elected president, introduced all of the new couples. Other newly-elected officers are Mrs. Wilbur Waybright, vice president; Mrs. Eugene Hartman, secretary; Mrs. Walter Kioetz, assistant secretary; and Kenneth Thomas, treasurer.

Included on the entertainment program were three trumpet solos, "Morning," by Oley Speaks; "The Lord's Prayer" and "Great Day," played by Arthur Elchbach; vocal solos, "The Lass with the Delicate Air" and "A Publican," by Miss Dorothy Lowman. Donald Bollinger played the piano accompaniments for both soloists and also played "Moonlight Sonata," by Beethoven, and Prelude No. 2 by Gershwin.

Fairfield PTA To Meet On Thursday
Three moving picture films will be shown at the May meeting of the Fairfield Joint School system Parent-Teachers' association Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the Fairfield community fire company hall.

The films to be shown are "Green Harvest," "Let's Count" and "The Life and Songs of Stephen Foster." Parents and children of the system and all interested in education are invited. Parents of children who will enter school next year are especially invited to attend.

PRESIDE AT MEETING
Dr. Francis C. Mason, of the college faculty, presided at a meeting of the Southern Pennsylvania section of the College English association held Saturday at the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia.

Fire Chief Calls Drill Wednesday
Fire Chief James A. Aumen announced today a fire drill will be held Wednesday evening at 6:30 o'clock when the training of an aerial ladder crew for an exhibition during the July 4 events will begin. The firemen will repair the rope on the flapple at the GAR home Wednesday evening and make a test run to Hunterstown where they will lay hose lines with a well as the source of supply.

Of April this year were not materially changed from the volume marketed in March, but the count totaling 45,800 for the first four months of the current year fell ten per cent short of the 50,000 marketed in the same period last year.

Salable supply of cattle included approximately 500 head held from last week. Receipts consisted of about 45 per cent slaughter steers and about 55 per cent stock cattle, with balance mainly cows. All classes of slaughter met rather slow trade, and steers cleared slower than other classes.

Scattered early sales of slaughter steers about steady with last Thursday, but general trade 25-30c. lower, with offerings around 1,100 pounds and more under most pressure in majority of cases. About four loads of over 1,200-pound steers still in first hands shortly after 1 P. M. Few high-grade 914-1,280 pounds, $23.65-28, but most of run consisted of average-medium and good, $23.50-25, few $25.25. Mostly odd lots of common and low-medium $20-22.50.

Heifers and mixed yearlings again scarce and about steady with last week's close. Package of medium and good $24-pound mixed yearlings $24.50; odd head lots of good heifers $24.50-25, while most of common and medium heifers $21-22.50; odd cutter heifers to $18.

The light supply of cows a slight stimulation factor in that department and cows moved scaleward on a mostly steady basis. Good cows $20-22-21. Bulk of the common and medium $17.50-20, while canners and cutters $15-17 in most cases. Odd shelly canners $15 and below.

Bulls also showed little net change. Good sausage bulls $21-22.50, but odd head to $22.75. Common and medium bulls $18.50-20.50, and odd cutter lightweights to $15.50.

A fairly broad demand was noted for all grades and weights of stocker and feeder cattle and sales made on a fully steady basis in most instances. Trading fairly active. A package of good and choice 1½-pound mixed steer and heifer calves top $26.50; a load of medium and good 439-pound steer calves $25.25, and a load of medium-grade bull calves $23; bulk of the medium and good 550-600-pound stocker and feeder steers $24-26; a few inferior and common around 700-pound Holstein steers $20.

CALVES—Fairly active trade in early morning, but late trading slowed down considerably from early. Prices steady with last Friday throughout the session. Good and choice vealers and slaughter calves up to 300 pounds $25-28, top $28. Common and medium $19-25, and odd light cuts $12 and below.

HOGS—Dealings slow in opening rounds in hog department, but later trading and the close moderately active. Prices generally 25c. higher than last Friday throughout the list. The equivalent payments with recipients free to use it as they choose, and the requirement that there must be financial need for assistance and gathering data to establish those facts is often a long, tedious task, Mrs. Myers said.

Plan Anniversary
She spoke particularly of the handling of blind pension cases because of the Lions' interest in aiding the blind. She said there are now 97 persons in the county receiving blind pensions of $40 a month. There are 15,000 blind pensioners in the state, she added.

President Hess announced plans for the club's 25th anniversary celebration to be held May 16 at the Hotel Gettysburg with a ladies' night program which will include a concert by the Gettysburg high school choir and dancing and cards at the hotel.

Next Monday evening the club will meet at the Mt. Joy Lutheran parish house where ladies of the church will serve a fried chicken dinner. Clubmen were invited to attend the annual meeting of the Gettysburg Recreation association Wednesday evening at the high school.

Pilot Uses Beer-Can Opener To Save His Polio-Stricken Wife

Ithaca, N. Y., May 3 (AP)—A pretty, young mother stricken with polio ended a cross-country trip today in an iron lung—alive because of her husband's deft use of a beer-can opener.

Death rode over the Union Pacific flyer that brought Mrs. Shirley Palmer, 27, across the western plains yesterday.

But her war pilot-husband was beside her when the electric motor operating the air pump of the portable iron lung burned out.

Because he crouched there and operated the lung pump by hand for more than 10 hours, she enters Biggs Memorial hospital today for treatment.

The lowly beer-can opener? When the handle on the lung pump bent under pressure of the marathon operation, Bob Palmer, 31, was desperate.

He told reporters: "I began to wonder what I was going to use for a new handle. I had the can opener handy, and it had a little hole through the end of it which slipped over the pin nicely. So I slipped it on and used it as a handle."

Palmer began his 10-hour job of working the pump by hand when the electric motor gave out east of Cheyenne, Wyo.

The conductor wired ahead to North Platte, Neb., for a new arma-ture or a new power and pump unit. There were no replacement parts at North Platte. But the Omaha fire department wired that a brand new pump unit awaited the Palmers there. And Palmer carried on until they reached Omaha—squatting, then kneeling, then sitting, changing his position to ease his muscles.

"merchants of the communities and the farmers to get to know one another, and each others problems. We are completely independent. The merchant must buy from the farmer so that the farmer has enough money to buy from the merchant." Jester urged all town dwellers to "get out in the country and get to know the farmer."

Pointing out that "nobody wants high prices," Jester asserted that "the first person to get it in the neck when prices start downhill is the farmers. Food prices go down first, while other prices remain high. Thus the farmer is caught between high prices for what he buys and lower prices for what he sells."

The Business and Professional Girls club served the meal. President Mares Sherman presided with 51 present.

president, the Rev. Mr. Hood, the representative.

Another item of importance considered at the meeting was the formulation of plans for the door services held annually at Crouse Park. They will begin the day night, June 26, and continue July 31, inclusive. All services will begin at 7 p. m. In case of rain, service on that night will be at the Centenary Methodist church.

APRIL WEATHER NEARLY NORMAL

Although April showers here were slightly above normal and the average temperature for last month was a fraction of a degree below normal April figures here, the month went into local weather records as "typical."

April rainfall totaled 4.4 inches which is about three-fourths of an inch above normal. The heaviest rain of the month occurred on April 13 when 2.12 inches were measured. There was a wide range of temperatures with a high of 83 degrees having been reached on April 27. That was the only 80-degree reading but the mercury climbed into the seventies on six other days.

Freezing temperatures were recorded on five days and the month's low was a 30-degree temperature taken on April 5. Frost was noted April 29 when the temperature here dropped to freezing.

Measurable amounts of rain fell on 11 of the 30 days last month.

Plan First Friday Rites At New Oxford

Monthly First Friday devotions for the month of May will take place May 6 at the Immaculate Conception Catholic church, New Oxford, with mass at 7:30 a. m., and a Holy Hour in the evening, to begin at 7:30.

For the convenience of those unable to attend the mass, Holy Communion will be distributed at 6:45 a. m. on Friday. In preparation for the devotions, the Rev. Robert D. Hartnett, pastor, who is in charge, will hear confessions on Thursday afternoon beginning at 3 o'clock and on Thursday evening at 6:30.

The pastor also has announced that the customary annual devotions in honor of Mary's Day will take place on Saturday, May 7.

This feast day, designated during recent years, is observed on the Saturday preceding the second Sunday of May, in honor of the Blessed Virgin to whom the entire month of May is always dedicated in the Catholic world. Particularly promoting the observance of Mary's Day is the National Council of Catholic Women. There will be mass at 8 a. m., attended by the church's NCCW chapter and others of the parish, and the Blessed Virgin altar in the church will be profusely decorated with seasonal flowers.

Hilly Shapiro, basketball co-captain of City College of New York, also batted .403 last season to lead the baseball team.

president, the Rev. Mr. Hoopert as the representative.

Another item of importance considered at the meeting was the formulation of plans for the outdoor services held annually in Crouse Park. They will begin Sunday night, June 26, and continue to July 31, inclusive. All services will begin at 7 p. m. In case of rain, the service on that night will be held in the Centenary Methodist church.

The following is the schedule of park services: June 26, the Rev. David S. Kammerer; July 3, the Rev. Grantas E. Hoopert; July 10, the Rev. Kenneth D. James; July 17, the Rev. John C. Brumbach; July 24, the Rev. Frank E. Reynolds. Music for each Sunday evening will be in charge of the choir of the church served by the officiating clergyman.

This meeting was in charge of the president, the Rev. Mr. Hoopert. Report of the secretary-treasurer was presented by the Rev. Mr. Rebert. Opening devotions were in charge of the Rev. Mr. Reynolds and closing devotions were in charge of the Rev. Mr. Kammerer. The next meeting will be held at the call of the president.

At Spring Luncheon

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Staley, Maple avenue; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Staley and son, William, Lumber street, spent Sunday in Wilmington, Del., visiting the former Mrs. Staley's sister, Mrs. Sara Dressel.

Mr. and Mrs. Theron Spangler and daughter, Marilyn, North Queen street, spent Sunday at Cedar Crest college, Allentown, visiting their daughter, Shirley, who is a student there. Parents' Day was observed.

Naomi Schwartz, near town, attended the past matrons' spring luncheon at the Cozy restaurant, Gettysburg, on Saturday. Cards were later enjoyed at the home of Mrs. Miriam Daley, East Lincoln avenue, with Mrs. Miriam Keefe and Mrs. Miriam Daley as hostesses.

The official bodies of three Littlestown churches will meet Wednesday at 8 p. m. in the respective churches, St. Paul's Lutheran and Redeemer's and Christ Reformed churches.

Vote $100 Donation

$100 was contributed to Lutheran World Action by the Ladies' Aid Society of Grace Lutheran church, Two Taverns, at a monthly meeting Monday night in the parish house. The pastor, the Rev. Dr. J. M. Myers, gave an address explaining the Lutheran World Action.

The society also announced that they will serve three banquets during this month. On May 4, they will serve the men's bowling team of Littlestown; on May 24, a group of individuals from the Keystone Wire Cloth in Hanover and on May 25, the Traveler's Bowling club. It was also decided the proceeds of one of these banquets will be given to some children's institution in honor of Mother's Day. Each member will be asked to make a donation toward this banquet.

This meeting which was attended by 30 members and four visitors was presided over by the president, Mrs. Charles Trostle, and the secretary's report was given by Mrs. Vernon Straley. After the business and worship sessions, the meeting was turned over to a program committee consisting of Mrs. Roy Foulk, Mrs. John Harner, Mrs. James Straley, Mrs. Howard Harner, Mrs. Fred Furney, Mrs. D. O. Newman, Mrs. Charles Helwig, Sr., and Miss Helen Culver who presented the following program:

"My Mother's Old Bible Is True" by the group; "Trees" and "Following our Flag," Miss Helen Culver; vocal solo, "That Wonderful Mother of Mine," Miss Evelyn Reaver accompanied by Miss Alma Reaver; accordion solos, "Cruising down the River" and "Long, Long Ago," Miss Betty Wherley; vocal solo, "Now is the Hour," Mrs. George Helwig. While refreshments were being prepared, Miss Betty Wherley entertained the group with several other accordion selections.

To Give Operetta

On May 13, the annual grade school operetta entitled, "Little Black Sambo" will be presented at 8 p. m. in the high school auditorium. This production which is in three acts is under the direction of Miss Joan L. Coble, supervisor of music and Mrs. Naomi Schwartz, first grade teacher in Littlestown, as accompanist.

Leading parts thus far assigned are Sambo, George Snyder; Mumbo, Patricia Long and Jumbo, Terry Brown. Pupils who will act as tigers are being chosen from the fifth grade and as monkeys from the fourth grade, while the chorus is composed of fifth and sixth grade pupils.

There will be special numbers between the acts by the first, second and third grade pupils. The former will have a rhythm band and the latter two will present dances.

The weekly rehearsal of the Littlestown Men's chorus will be held Thursday at 9 p. m. in St. Paul's Lutheran church.

Ocker-Snyder Post No. 321, American Legion, has secured Ray-Mond, the Aristocrat of Deception, to present his "Cavalade of Mystery" on Wednesday, May 11 at 8 p. m., in the Littlestown high school auditorium. There will also be an afternoon performance. This show is for the benefit of the post's Building Fund.

No ponderous excess bulk to squander gasoline!

For thrift as well as style...
Studebaker's the 49 buy word

THE clean-lined look of a 1949 Studebaker tells you it's a car with the right build for thrift. You don't see a trace of cumbersome excess bulk in those trim, graceful body contours. There's no gas-wasting surplus poundage in the rugged Studebaker chassis underneath.

This is motoring's most advanced kind of designing—it cuts driving costs substantially every mile. Stop in for a look around and let us give you the names of some Studebaker owners to check with. You'll be amazed to learn what they save.

Here's what you get for your Studebaker dollar

New decorator-fabric upholstery • New body colors • Self-adjusting brakes • Variable ratio "extra-leverage" steering • Panoramic vision • Seats centered between the axles • Low center of gravity • Glare-proof "black light" instrument dials • Automatic hill holder—available on Champions at slight added cost, but standard on other models • Automatic overdrive, Climateizer heating and ventilating, white sidewall tires and wheel trim rings or discs are optional at extra cost on all models.
